Race Segregation Banned In Headquarters Staff of Dems

Washington, Aug. 4.—(P)—The Democratic national committee has banned race segregation in its headquarters staff in a new bid for negro support in the presiden- tial election.

New Jersey Agog Over Slight Quake

Atlantic City, N. J., Aug. 4.—(P)—A slight earth tremor shook parts of this resort city yesterday. Residents reported feeling their homes vibrate and dishes rattling on the shelves.

City offices and newspaper desks were deluged with telephone calls from persons wanting information about the "earthquake." In New York City, the Rev. Joseph J. Lynch, Fordham University seismographs at 2:04:40 p. m. Residents here reported noting a rumble between 1:45 p. m. and 5 p. m.

Father Lynch said no distur- bance at this time was shown by his instruments, but he suggested this possibly was another of the same kind recorded earlier in New York. He said the tremor was "nothing to be alarmed about."

War Hero Buried In Jersey Said To Have Worked Here

Beverly, N. J., Aug. 4.—(P)—Four-year-old Patricia Ann Dutko had the flag from a hero's coffin today and she told her friends "my daddy's home home."

Her daddy was Master Sgt. John W. Dutko, Pennsylvania farm boy who won the Congressional Medal of Honor at Anzio. Dutko's father lives at Strongton, Pa.

He never saw his little girl because he lost his life in the furious fighting on that Italian beach.

(A special dispatch from Beverly, N. J., states that Sgt. Dutko at one time worked as a farm hand near Warren. The informant was unable to say where.)

Dutko's body, returned recently from Italy, was buried yesterday with highest military honors in Beverly National Cemetery.

Two other winners of the nation's highest award served as his honor guard.

Dutko was the first winner of the Congressional Medal to be in- terred in the cemetery, which was established in 1865 during an epidemic among union troops in the civil war.

While a sad-eyed widow, Mrs. Ethel Dutko of Delanco, looked on, the flag from Dutko's coffin was presented to his little daughter.

Dutko, who received the Congressional Medal posthumously, was killed May 23, 1944 near Ponte Rotto, Italy, in the Anzio invasion with the 30th Infantry Division.

G. O. P. ANTI-INFLATION ACT DECIDED UPON

Measure Proposed Calls For Restoring Installment Buying Controls Through March 15

FILIBUSTER STILL ON

BULLETIN

Washington, Aug. 4.—(P)—Senate Republicans today abandoned their efforts to pass an anti-poll tax bill during the extra session of congress.

Senator Tobey (R-NH) said today Republican senators have agreed they can adjourn Tuesday after passing their own measure dealing with credit controls, housing and displaced persons. Tobey emerged from a three-hour closed-door conference of the senate Republican majority hinting that the filibuster- blocked attempt to pass a bill outlawing poll taxes will be dropped today.

Washington, Aug. 4.—(P)—The Republicans formally proposed their own anti-inflation bill today amid prospects it may reach the House for action tomorrow.

Rep. Wolcott (R-Mich.), House Banking Committee chairman, said the measure calls for restoring installment buying controls through next March 15 and for moderate tightening of bank credits. These steps have been freely predicted by GOP leaders.

The measure completely ignores President Truman's request for selective price-wage controls and rationing powers. Likewise, there is no mention of the President's proposed excess profits tax estimated to yield $4,300,000,000.

Republican senators concentrated on bringing up some form of housing bill and on what to do about civil rights legislation—especially the anti-poll tax bill tied up by a southern filibuster.

The 51 GOP senators were called together for a lengthy morning discussion of what legislation may be pushed in the session before adjournment.

A group of House members headed by Rep. G. Toole (D-N.Y.) petitioned Republican leaders not to allow Congress to adjourn without acting on cost-of-living and housing legislation. O'Toole said "approximately 40 members" backed the request.

As the GOP anti-inflation bill was brought out, Treasury Secretary Snyder appeared before House banking group.

Former Government Official Accused Of Spying Calls Charge False And Fantastic

Arab Hints At Compromise In Palestine

Ayman, Trans-Jordan, Aug. 4.—(P)—King Abdullah spoke today of a compromise in Palestine.

He said the "Arab nation does not exclude any possible compromise that secures justice and prevents unnecessary bloodshed."

Count Folke Bernadotte, the United Nations mediator, saw the king here Monday and said later that "as always, he was helpful."

Bernadotte's previous peace plan, which the Arab League rejected, would have annexed the Arab portions of Palestine to Trans-Jordan. The king's reference to the refugee problem concerned the 300,000 to 350,000 Palestine Arabs who have been driven from their homes.

The king's carefully chosen words promising Arab consideration of a Palestine "compromise" set a precedent among Arab statesmen. Until now, all have avoided any public utterance indicating willingness in that direction.

A Alexandria, Egypt, United Nations and Red Cross officials took measures to fight a typhoid epidemic they fear may strike among Arab refugees from the Palestine war.

Counte Bernadotte arrived in Alexandria by plane yesterday.

Yanks Setting Champs Pace In Olympics

BULLETIN

Olympic stadium, Wembley, England, Aug. 4.—(P)—Bill Porter of Northwestern won the 110-meter high hurdles in the Olympic games today as athletes from the United States placed 1-2-3 to score their second sweep of a track and field event.

London, Aug. 4.—(P)—America's track and water stars continued their championship pace in the 1948 Olympics today and moved toward new triumphs on every major front.

The United States qualified all three of its candidates for the 110 meter high hurdles finals and sent three three javelin throwers into the championship round.

All three U. S. representatives in the 400-meter run won their first round heats.

In the diving competition, which has become an American monopoly, Dr. Sammy Lee, 28-year-old medical lieutenant from Pasadena, Calif., led the field at the halfway point of the men's high board championship.

Bruce Harlan of Ohio State, the springboard champion, was second. Miller Anderson, also of Ohio State and a high board favorite, was held out because of a jump received in a practice dive Monday.

Cheered by a crowd of 50,000 that jammed the huge stadium for the fifth day of the games, the United States sent three high hurdlers into the finals with ease and threatened a sweep of the specialty.

Bill Porter of Northwestern won the second semifinal heat in 14.1 seconds, equalling the Olympic records set at Berlin in 1936 by Forrest (Spec) Townes of the United States.

Clyde (Smackover) Scott of the University of Arkansas was second in the same heat.

The other 110-meter qualifier was Craig Dixon, University of Southern California at Los Angeles, who won the first heat easily in 14.2 seconds.

United Europe Proposed By Italy Premier

Rome, Aug. 4.—(P)—Italy is ready to take the lead in surrendering national sovereignty to bring about European unity, Foreign Minister Count Carlo Sforza said today.

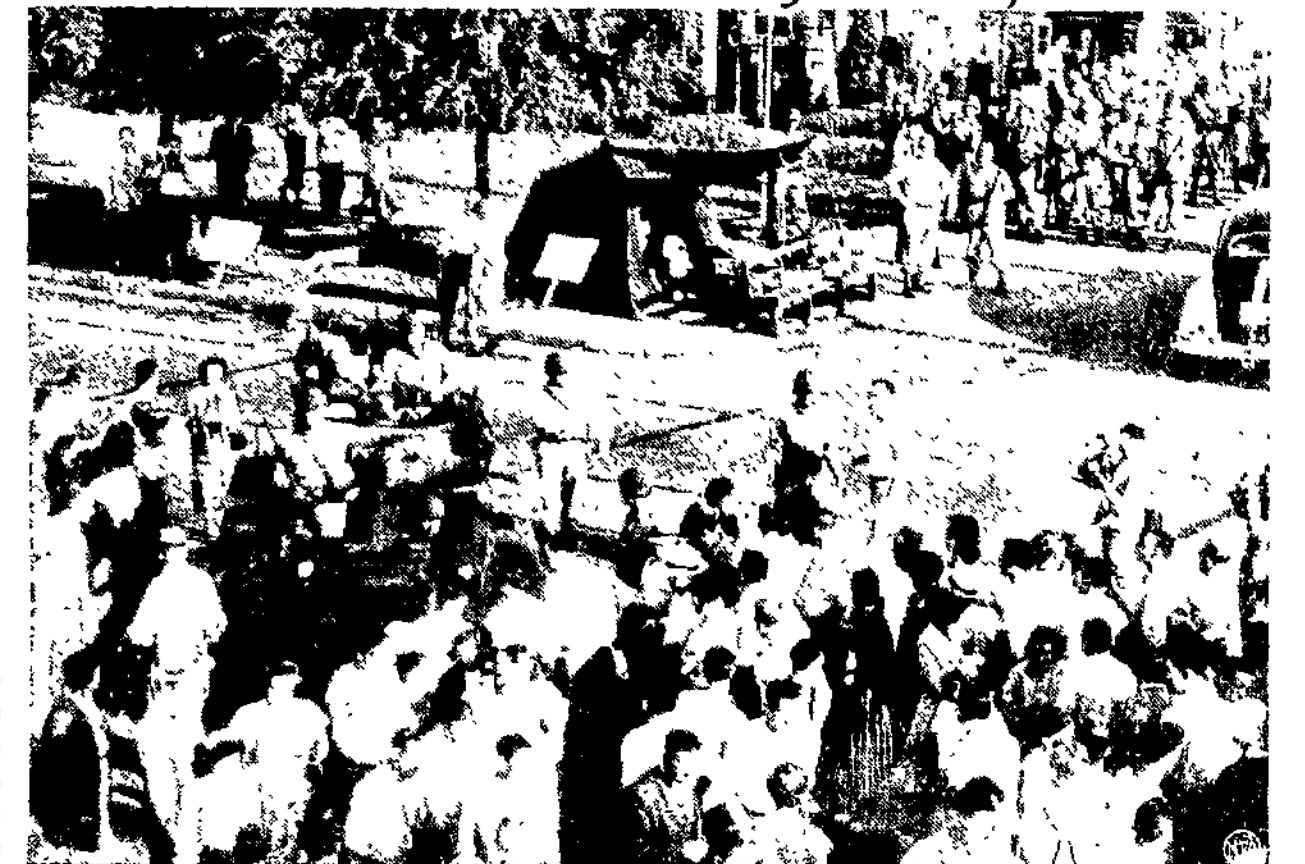

The bearded, 74-year-old statesman urged union now as the only cure for the continent's postwar economic and political ills and the sole hope for peace.

To bring it about and to do away with "archaic frontiers and archaic customs duties," he declared in an interview, this nation is ready to "accept curtailment of its political sovereignty, even in the most unexpected aspects."

He said there was but one condition: "That others do the same." A long-time advocate of unity, Count Sforza had his hand strengthened last week when the Senate, in approving the European recovery program accord, urged their early development into effective union.

Only Communists and fellow-traveling Socialists demurred.

Guardsmen Use Armored Car Against Dayton Strikers

An armored car, manned by Ohio National Guardsmen breaks through a crowd surging toward the gates of the Univis Lens Company plant in Dayton. Thanksgiving Turkey Cost More This Year

Washington, Aug. 4.—(P)—That Thanksgiving turkey will cost you more than ever this year, the Agriculture Department forecast today.

The holiday birds retailed at about 60 cents a pound last November here in Washing- ton.

The department also said there is no prospect of lower chicken and egg prices before next year. The reason: Farmers reduced poultry stocks the past year because feed grains were scarce as well as high. However, latest crop reports for the feeding year beginning October 1 indicate the feed supplies will be largest on record.

Shotgun Death Of Pastor Is Cited Suicide

Chambersburg, Aug. 4.—(P)—Coroner S. D. Shull returned a finding today of suicide in the shotgun death of the Rev. Trostle P. Dick, 60, Chambersburg pastor.

Dr. Shull said that Mr. Dick, pastor of the Fourth Street Church of the Brethren, Chambersburg, had been in ill health for some time.

Mr. Dick's body was found last night in a field on the farm of Fred Witter, a member of the church, about three miles from Chambersburg.

The coroner said that Mr. Dick went to the country yesterday but took his own shotgun along, saying he might see some groundhogs.

He stopped at the Witter farm, where he had hunted before, and then started out along a creek on the farm. When he failed to return, Witter went in search of him and found the body, with the shotgun about four feet away.

Coroner Shull said a pumpkin ball from the shotgun entered Mr. Dick's breast near the heart and emerged in the upper part of the left shoulder.

Mr. Dick had been pastor of the Chambersburg church since July, 1946. Before that time he was pastor of the Coventry Church near Pottstown for 18 years. He was a native of Pottstown.

Stuttgart, Germany, Aug. 4.—(P)—An American Zone denazification court here cleared Dr. Hugo Eckener, 79-year-old German Zeppelin designer, of Nazi charges yesterday. The court said his activities of German industry under the Nazi were "not incriminating under the denazification laws."

Hope For Early Settlement Of Dayton Strike Is Fading

Dayton, O., Aug. 4.—(P)—Hopes of an early settlement in the Univis Lens Co. labor dispute faded today after Local 768, United Electrical Workers (CIO) voted to continue the strike "until a satisfactory agreement is reached."

Steel-helmeted National Guardsmen, called in Monday to prevent further picket-line violence, maintained their watch over non-strikers reporting for work this morning.

There were only a few pickets, and unless mass plant demonstrations were called by unionists, city officials had hopes the violent stage of the strike might be passing.

Leothar Wornstaff, head of the local, said last night's vote to continue the 22-day-old strike was unanimous.

Wornstaff declared that at 6 o'clock last night the police had taken Hiram Payne, 22-year-old war veteran, from the picket line and mistreated him. He also said two other pickets, Bruce Van Winkle and Martha Woodie, had been mistreated. He said he had complained to Col. George C. Schiele, commander of the guard, and that the colonel had promised guard protection for the pickets.

Some 1,400 guardsmen are on duty at the plant and in the plant area. The union cut its picket force from six to three—all women.

In Kansas, former Gov. Andrew Schoepel got the approval of Republican voters as candidate for the senate seat being vacated by 83-year-old Arthur Capper, a veteran of 30 years on Washington's capitol hill. Schoepel defeated Wichita Lawyer Harold Malone.

The former governor's Democratic opponent for Capper's job will be George McGill, who has served previously as senator from Kansas. He ran up a two-to-one margin yesterday over Farm Leader F. K. Dean.

Virginia Democrats meanwhile gave the same two-to-one victory edge to Senator A. Willis Robertson, running for renomination against anti-organization candidate James P. Hart, Jr., Roanoke attorney.

In congressional contests in the three states, incumbents were in all cases either unopposed, assured of victory, or leading.

In two of these races, however, lawmakers had to put up a tough fight to keep their house seats. Republican Rep. Dewey Short faced stiff opposition from young Quentin Haden in the seventh congressional district of Missouri before he finally nailed down the victory.

In Missouri, State Auditor Frank Smith won the Democratic nomination for governor with little trouble, piling up a vote score greater than the combined totals of his two opponents, former U. S. Tax Collector Dan M. Nee and former Attorney General Roy McKittick.

The GOP primary was tighter, but Speaker Murray Thompson of the state house of representatives was nominated over his closest rival, Lawyer Manvel H. Davis.

MISS BENTLEY IS DENOUNCED AS A "LIAR"

Nathan Silvermaster Testifies Under Oath He Has Never Been Agent for Foreign Nation

SENATE GROUP ACTIVE

BULLETIN

Washington, Aug. 4.—(P)—Nathan Gregory Silvermaster swore today he never was a spy for any foreign nation, but admitted that naval intelligence authorities once sought his removal from government service. In the witness chair of the House Un-American Activities Committee, Silvermaster also refused to answer questions as to whether he ever had been a Communist. His refusal was on grounds he might incriminate himself. Committee members then put back on the stand Elizabeth Bentley, the former Communist who originally brought the charges of espionage against Silvermaster.

She said again that he is the man she knew during the war who turned secret information over to her for relay to the Russians.

Washington, Aug. 4.—(P)—Nathan Gregory Silvermaster, now accused of spying for Russia, staved on the government payroll during the war although both the Navy and Civil Service Commission tried to get him off. It was disclosed today that "I am not and never have been a spy or agent of any foreign government,"

His accuser, Elizabeth T. Bentley, was looking on as Silvermaster appeared at the espionage investigation of the House Un-American Activities Committee.

She had sworn on Saturday that Silvermaster was head of one group of government employees which supplied her with information during the war for Russia.

"The charges made by Miss Bentley are false and fantastic," Silvermaster said. "I can only conclude that she is a neurotic liar. I am and have been a loyal

INT ANOTHER MEETING

Moscow, Aug. 4.—(P)—An informed source said today some part of agreement may result from the talks of western envoys with Prime Minister Stalin and Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov.

The informant would not specify the nature of such an agreement. Another meeting of the envoys with Stalin, Molotov or they may be requested soon. The three envoys—U. S. There was some doubt that any meeting of the three with Russian leaders would take place today, but it was possible that it would. The western representatives are standing by and waiting. Berliners, meantime, voiced hope that this week's western talks with Prime Minister Stalin in Moscow would result in a post-war compromise and early lifting of the Berlin deadlock. There was no official comment in Berlin on the Moscow negotiations, but it is known American and British occupation commanders are being kept advised of developments by Washington and London. Gen. The Republican national committee maintains a negro division with Val Washington of Chicago, former Illinois state official, as its head. William Murphy, GOP publicity director, said several negroes are employed on the headquarters staff.

McGrath's move was looked on by some Dixie Democrats as a further sign that the administration is more interested in negro support from the big vote states than it is in patching up the party row with the south.

McGrath said, however, he thinks things will work out in November.

G. O. P. ANTI-INFLATION ACT DECIDED UPON

Measure Proposed Calls For Restoring Installment Buying Controls Through March 15

FILIBUSTER STILL ON

BULLETIN

Washington, Aug. 4.—(P)—Senate Republicans today abandoned their efforts to pass an anti-poll tax bill during the extra session of congress.

Washington, Aug. 4.—(P)—Senator Tobey (R-NH) said today Republican senators have agreed they can adjourn Tuesday after passing their own measure: dealing with credit controls, housing and displaced persons. Tobey emerged from a three-hour closed-door conference of the senate Republican majority hinting that the filibuster-blocked attempt to pass a bill outlawing poll taxes will be dropped today.

Washington, Aug. 4.—(P)—The Republicans formally proposed their own anti-inflation bill today and promised it may reach the House for action tomorrow.

Rep. Wolcott (R-Mich.), House Banking Committee chairman, said the measure calls for restoring installment buying controls through next March 15 and for moderate tightening of bank credits. These steps have been freely predicted by GOP leaders.

The measure completely ignores President Truman's request for selective price-wage controls and rationing powers. Likewise, there is no mention of the President's proposed excess profits tax estimated to yield $4,300,000,000.

Republican senators concentrated on bringing up some form of Housing bill and on what to do about civil rights legislation—especially the anti-poll tax bill tied up by a southern filibuster.

The 51 GOP senators were called together for a lengthy morning discussion of what legislation may be pushed in the session before adjournment.

A group of House members headed by Rep. O'Toole (D-N.Y.) petitioned Republican leaders not to allow Congress to adjourn without acting on cost-of-living and housing legislation. O'Toole said "approximately 40 members" backed the request.

As the GOP anti-inflation bill was brought out, Treasury Secretary Snyder appeared before the House banking group.

Police Of 13 States Alerted For Fugitive

Bradford, Aug. 4.—(P)—Police of 13 states were alerted today to be on the lookout for George Miketish, 28, of Gifford, sought since Monday night in the clubbing death of his wife, Gertrude, 23.

Claude Shattuck, McKean county district attorney said Miketish was believed to be in a car stolen Monday from Harry Carl of Aiken, near Gifford. He said the car was a blue 1944 Nash sedan, with Pennsylvania license HG-127. He said the auto was in poor mechanical condition.

Mrs. Miketish, found dead in her home, had been killed by repeated blows on the head. A shotgun, the stock broken into three parts, lay nearby.

Darwin Dalley, father of the slain woman, received shotgun wounds in the head, face and chest. His wife, beaten on the head with a gun, was able to talk to neighbors and officers when they arrived.

The Dalleys were taken to Bradford Hospital, his condition was described as critical, hers as serious.

94-YEAR-OLD LAW IS INVOKED IN BIG SUIT

Pittsburgh, Aug. 4.—(P)—A 94-year-old law was invoked yesterday in a $25,000 damage suit filed in common pleas court.

Louis C. Adler of Wildwood asked the amount against Joseph Enie and Ross Petrone, both of Wildwood, claiming their "carelessness and negligence" resulted in his face being scarred and disfigured.

The suit charges that Enie, inebriated by liquor sold him by Petrone, a tavern-keeper, struck Adler with a beer bottle.

An 1854 law says anyone who sells drink to a second person is responsible for any injuries caused by the second person.

Arab Hints At Compromise In Palestine

Ayman, Trans-Jordan, Aug. 4.—(P)—King Abdullah spoke today of a compromise in Palestine.

He said the "Arab nation does not exclude any possible compromise that secures justice and prevents unnecessary bloodshed."

Count Folke Bernadotte, the United Nations mediator, saw the king here Monday and said later that "as always, he was helpful."

Bernadotte's previous peace plan, which the Arab League rejected, would have annexed the Arab portions of Palestine to Trans-Jordan. The king's reference to the refugee problem concerned the 300,000 to 350,000 Palestine Arabs who have been driven from their homes.

The king's carefully chosen words promising Arab consideration of a Palestine "compromise" set a precedent among Arab statesmen. Until now, all have avoided any public utterance indicating willingness in that direction.

At Alexandria, Egypt, United Nations and Red Cross officials took measures to fight a typhoid epidemic they fear may strike among Arab refugees from the Palestine war.

Count Bernadotte arrived in Alexandria by plane yesterday.

Yanks Setting Champs Pace In Olympics

BULLETIN

Olympic stadium, Wembley, England, Aug. 4.—(P)—Bill Porter, of Northwestern, won the 110-meter high hurdles in the Olympic games today as athletes from the United States placed 1-2-3 to score their second sweep of a track and field event.

London, Aug. 4.—(P)—America's track, field and water stars continued their championship pace in the 1948 Olympics today and moved toward new triumphs on every major front.

The United States qualified all three of its candidates for the 110 meter high hurdles finals and sent three three javelin throwers into the championship round.

All three U. S. representatives in the 400-meter run won their first round heats.

In the diving competition, which has become an American monopoly, Dr. Sammy Lee, 28-year-old medical lieutenant from Pasadena, Calif., led the field at the halfway point of the men's high board championship.

Bruce Harlan of Ohio State, the springboard champion, was second. Miller Anderson, also of Ohio State and a high board favorite, was held out because of injuries received in a practice dive Monday.

Cheered by a crowd of 50,000 that jammed the huge stadium for the fifth day of the games, the United States sent three high hurdles into the finals with ease and threatened a sweep of the specialty.

Bill Porter of Northwestern won the second semifinal heat in 14.1 seconds, equalling the Olympic records set at Berlin in 1936 by Forrest (Spec) Townes of the United States.

Clyde (Smackover) Scott of the University of Arkansas was second in the same heat. The other 110-meter qualifier was Craig Dixon, University of Southern California at Los Angeles, who won the first heat easily in 14.2 seconds.

United Europe Proposed By Italy Premier

Rome, Aug. 4.—(P)—Italy is ready to take the lead in surrendering national sovereignty to bring about European unity, Foreign Minister Count Carlo Sforza said today.

The bearded, 74-year-old statesman urged union now as the only cure for the continent's postwar economic and political ills and the sole hope for peace.

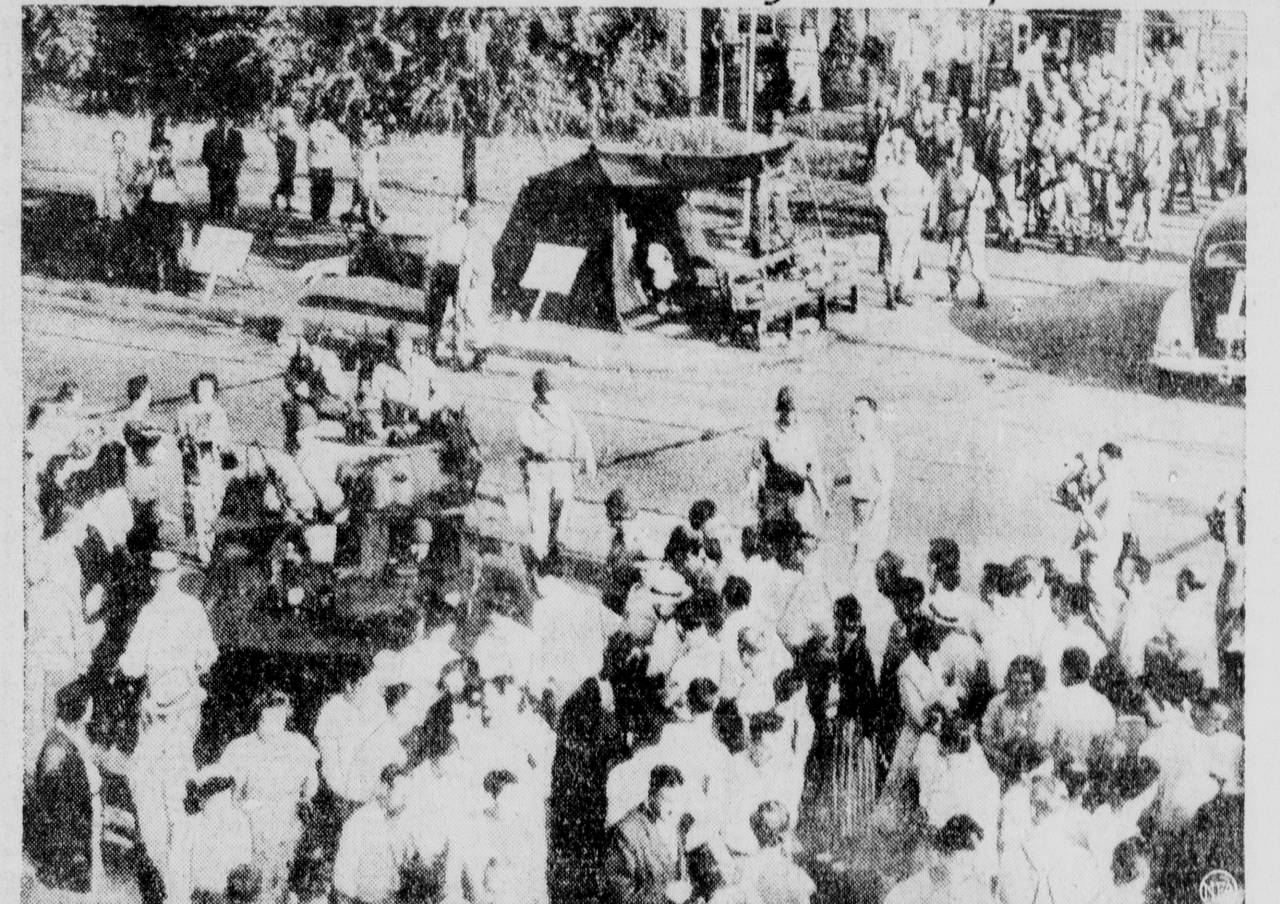

To bring it about and to do away with "archaic frontiers and archaic customs duties," he declared in an interview, this nation is ready to "accept curtailment of its political sovereignty, even in the most unexpected aspects."

He said there was but one condition: "That others do the same."

A long-time advocate of unity, Count Sforza had his hand strengthened last week when the Senate, in approving the European recovery program accords, urged their early development into effective union.

Only Communists and fellow-traveling Socialists demurred.

Guardsmen Use Armored Car Against Dayton Strikers

An armored car, manned by Ohio National Guardsmen, breaks through a crowd surging around the gates of the Univis Lens Company plant in Dayton. A Sherman tank, bayonets and tear gas were also used against pickets and strike-sympathizers who tried to keep workmen from returning to their jobs after a 90-day strike.

Thanksgiving Turkey Cost More This Year

Washington, Aug. 4.—(P)—That Thanksgiving turkey will cost you more than ever this year, the Agriculture Department forecast today.

The holiday birds retailed at about 60 cents a pound last November here in Washington.

The department also said there is no prospect of lower chicken and egg prices before next year. The reason: Farmers reduced poultry flocks the past year because feed grains were scarce as well as high.

However, latest crop reports for the feeding year beginning October 1 indicate the feed supplies will be largest on record.

Shotgun Death Of Pastor Is Cited Suicide

Chambersburg, Aug. 4.—(P)—Coroner S. D. Shull returned a finding today of suicide in the shotgun death of the Rev. Trostle P. Dick, 60, Chambersburg pastor.

Dr. Shull said that Mr. Dick, pastor of the Fourth Street Church of the Brethren, Chambersburg, had been in ill health for some time.

Mr. Dick's body was found last night in a field on the farm of Fred Witter, a member of the church, about three miles from Chambersburg.

The coroner said that Mr. Dick went to the country yesterday but took his own shotgun along, saying he might see some groundhogs.

He stopped at the Witter farm, where he had hunted before, and then started out along a creek on the farm. When he failed to return, Witter went in search of him and found the body, with the shotgun about four feet away.

Coroner Shull said a pumpkin ball from the shotgun entered Mr. Dick's breast near the heart and emerged in the upper part of the left shoulder.

Mr. Dick had been pastor of the Chambersburg church since July, 1946. Before that time he was pastor of the Coventry Church near Pottstown for 18 years. He was a native of Pottstown.

DAIRY STORE HELD UP

Pittsburgh, Aug. 4.—(P)—Police reported three armed men held up the Purer Dairy store in nearby Birdville shortly before last midnight, escaping by auto with $300 to $500 in currency. One man looted the cash register while a second held Warren W. Woods, store manager, at gunpoint. A third waited in the get-away car. The man fired three shots in the air when Woods rushed outside to call help.

CARDINAL DIES

Vatican City, Aug. 4.—(P)—Enrico Cardinal Silliba, 87, oldest member of the College of Cardinals of the Roman Catholic church died today at Anagni, his birthplace, it was announced here. Cardinal Silliba was bishop of Sabina and Poggio Msteto. His death leaves 11 vacancies in the College of Cardinals, which at full strength has 70 members.

COURT CLEARS ECKNER

Stuttgart, Germany, Aug. 4.—(P)—An American Zone denazification court here cleared Dr. Hugo Eckener, 79-year-old German Zeppelin designer, of Nazi charges yesterday. The court said his activities of German industry under the Nazi were "not incriminating under the denazification laws."

Hope For Early Settlement Of Dayton Strike Is Fading

Dayton, O., Aug. 4.—(P)—Hopes of an early settlement in the Univis Lens Co. labor dispute faded today after Local 768, United Electrical Workers (CIO) voted to continue the strike "until a satisfactory agreement is reached."

Steel-helmeted National Guardsmen, called in Monday to prevent further picket-line violence, maintained their watch over non-strikers reporting for work this morning.

There were only a few pickets, and unless mass plant demonstrations were called by unionists, city officials had hopes the violent stage of the strike might be passing.

Leothar Wornstaff, head of the local, said last night's vote to continue the 92-day-old strike was unanimous.

Wornstaff declared that at 6 o'clock last night the police had taken Hiram Payne, 22-year-old war veteran, from the picket line and mistreated him. He also said two other pickets, Bruce Van Winkle and Martha Woodie, had been mistreated. He said he had complained to Col. George C. Schiele, commander of the guard, and that the colonel had promised guard protection for the pickets.

Some 1,400 guardsmen are on duty at the plant and in the plant area. The union cut its picket force from six to three—all women, but troops remained at the plant gates, and atop the building four men squatted beside a machine gun.

Veteran Campaigners Win In Elections In Three States

Voters in Missouri, Kansas and Virginia primaries yesterday gave the nod for November election competition to a field of veteran political campaigners.

In Missouri, State Auditor Frank Smith won the Democratic nomination for governor with little trouble, piling up a vote score greater than the combined totals of his two opponents, former U. S. Tax Collector Dan M. Nee and former Attorney General Roy McKittrick.

Smith had the support of anti-Pendergast forces in Kansas City. The GOP primary was tighter, but Speaker Murray Thompson of the state house of representatives awaited Seth E. Gordon, retiring executive director of the Pennsylvania Game Commission.

The California Wildlife Conservation announced at San Francisco late yesterday that Gordon will make a study of California wildlife life for the board on a contract basis.

"It's a great opportunity to be helpful to some folks that need some service," said Gordon of the appointment.

The game director leaves his offices here Sept. 1 for several speaking engagements. Then he expects to report to California about Oct. 1.

MISS BENTLEY IS DENOUNCED AS A "LIAR"

Nathan Silvermaster Testifies Under Oath He Has Never Been Agent for Foreign Nation

SENATE GROUP ACTIVE

BULLETIN

Washington, Aug. 4.—(P)—Nathan Gregory Silvermaster swore today he never was a spy for any foreign nation, but admitted that naval intelligence authorities once sought his removal from government service. In the witness chair of the House Un-American Activities Committee, Silvermaster also refused to answer questions as to whether he ever had been a Communist. His refusal was on grounds he might incriminate himself. Committee members then put back on the stand Elizabeth Bentley, the former Communist who originally brought the charges of espionage against Silvermaster.

She said again that he is the man she knew during the war who turned secret information over to her for relay to the Russians.

BULLETIN

Washington, Aug. 4.—(P)—Nathan Gregory Silvermaster, now accused of spying for Russia, stayed on the government payroll during the war although both the Navy and Civil Service Commission tried to get him off. It was disclosed today. This was developed at a session of the House Un-American Activities Committee where Silvermaster took the stand and (1) denied he ever was a spy or agent for any foreign government, and (2) steadfastly refused to say whether he is or has been a Communist.

BULLETIN

Washington, Aug. 4.—(P)—Nathan Gregory Silvermaster, former government official accused of spying for Russia, testified under oath today that "I am not and never have been a spy or agent of any foreign government."

His accuser, Elizabeth T. Bentley, was looking on as Silvermaster appeared at the espionage investigation of the House Un-American Activities Committee.

She had sworn on Saturday that Silvermaster was head of one group of government employees which supplied her with information during the war for Russia.

"The charges made by Miss Bentley are false and fantastic," Silvermaster said. "I can only conclude that she is a neurotic liar. I am and have been a loyal (Turn to Page Seven)

Ex-President Of Panama In Exile

Balboa, C. Z. Aug. 4.—(P)—Declaring "my life is in danger," Arnulfo Arias Madrid, former president of Panama, fled into political exile today for the second time.

Arias, who was the opposition candidate for president in the election last May, declared as he boarded a plane for Barranquilla, Colombia:

"We are under a dictatorial regime. A horrid criminal fraud has been perpetrated. I will return when a sense of responsibility and tranquility return to Panama."

His reference to "fraud" apparently was aimed at the outcome of the May presidential race. He claimed victory in the unofficial count but the official tally, announced after months of counting, gave a 1,116 vote edge to his government-backed opponent, Domingo Diaz Arosemena.

Father of Milk Control Law Deplores Consumer 'Squeeze'

Harrisburg, Aug. 4.—(P)—The father of Pennsylvania's milk control law thinks the consumer needs more protection in the spiraling of milk prices.

He is A. J. White Hutton, Dickinson College law school professor and Chambersburg attorney, who sponsored the law while he was a member of the 1933 legislature from Franklin county.

"The situation today is just about the reverse of 1933," he told a reporter. "Then the farmers needed protection; now the consumer needs it."

The milk control law was passed in the depths of the depression at a time when some farmers stopped selling milk rather than accept prices as low as five or six cents a quart.

Since then, both wholesale and retail prices have climbed until now the State Milk Control Commission is admittedly planning a 2½ cents a quart boost Aug. 16 to place the price at an all-time high of 23 and 23½ cents a quart in most of the state.

Hutton said the milk board was set to regulate the milk industry and assure an adequate supply of milk in Pennsylvania. The current trend, he added, seems to run to basing prices on competition between milk sheds rather than on the costs of production.

"One of the difficulties now," Hutton said, "is the competition which starts in Boston, goes to New York, and then comes into Pennsylvania" in the bidding for (Turn to Page Seven)

It also is planned to lay out both the baseball and football fields this fall, and the baseball paths will be "skinned" of sod in preparation for games on the field next year.

War Memorial Field Has A New Director

O. C. Tritt, county farm agent, today became the newest member of the board of directors for Warren's Memorial Field in Lexington.

Tritt was elected last night when the directors met in the Conewango Club to complete arrangements for playing football on the new field this fall.

Named to a committee to work out last minute details were A. L. Rasmussen, L. A. Branch and Dr. J. R. Elliott.

The directors have been asked to assemble at the field next Tuesday evening at 6 o'clock to rake off the grass which has been cut. It also is planned to lay out both the baseball and football fields this fall, and the baseball paths will be "skinned" of sod in preparation for games on the field next year.

The directors voted to rent the field on a percentage basis to the Warren Red Jackets for Sunday football games this year.

Injuries were slight due to the fact that both the car and switch engine were traveling at a very slow rate of speed.

Auto Tour For Forest County Planned For Friday, August 6

Forest county people will visit outstanding farms in Elk county during the annual auto tour on Friday, August 6.

In cooperation with A. C. Rockwell, county agent of Elk county, the Extension Association tour committee, consisting of Frank Glenn, Marienville; Mrs. James Handy, Pleasantville, Rt. 3; and Mrs. John H. King, West Hickory, planned the following itinerary:

The tourists are to gather at 9 a. m. at the farm of W. E. Frost, six miles north of Marienville at Pigeon, to see the large herd of Hereford beef cattle on an improved pasture near the main highway.

From here the tourists will go to the farm of Ellithorpe Brothers, in Elk county, to see a woodland improvement demonstration that has been carried on for a period of 37 years.

The next stop will be at the farm of E. Anderson and Sons, near Ridgway. Here the visitors will see a large herd of Holstein dairy cattle, a plant where milk is pasteurized and homogenized, a farm pond under construction, contour strip farming and 4-H Club hoifers.

The third stop will be at the farm of Harry Engstrom, Ridgway. Mr. Engstrom has about 2,000 White Rock New Hampshire and Leghorn chickens, a three-story laying house which had been remodelled from an old barn, and a windbreak developed from the planting of evergreen trees.

The Forest County people will eat their basket picnic lunches at the Anderson grove nearby. Mr. Anderson will supply coffee and drinking water.

The first stop after lunch will be at the New York and Pennsylvania Company plywood yard, where the visitors will see two or three millions dollars worth of paper wood, and the men may also see a hydraulic mechanical bark peeler in operation.

The next stop will be at the farm of George Grotzinger, St. Marys, Pa. D. According to County Agent Rockwell this is one of the showiest farms in Elk county. Here the people will see modern dairy buildings, hay barns, a grain sump, results of 2-4-D spraying, and a pure bred Jersey herd.

The last stop will be at the farm of Joseph Schwabenbauer near St. Marys. Mr. Schwabenbauer is conducting a timber preservation treatment demonstration in a 10,000 bushel potato storage. Here the tourists may also see a dairy herd, contour strip cropping and potatoes sprayed with DDT for insect control.

After the first stop in Elk county the distance is about 40 miles to the last stop. Therefore, the tour committee believes that this trip will not be as far as some other trips taken during annual auto tours.

Pomona Grange Quarterly At Corydon On Thursday

Members of subordinate Granges of the entire county will gather in Corydon on Thursday of this week to attend the quarterly program-meeting of Warren County Pomona Grange, No. 10.

Darrell Lay, Pomona master, will conduct the session and Nina Haight, lecturer, has prepared the program numbers.

The morning session will open in the fifth degree at 10:30 o'clock, lowering to the fourth degree following the business meeting. After the opening sing, in which all will participate, the welcome will be extended by Nelson Crooks, of Corydon. Rev. Jordan Cole, of Columbus, will voice the response.

The remainder of the morning period will be devoted to the home economics hour in charge of Margaret Johnson with adjournment for 12:30 luncheon following the closing song.

Another community sing will open the afternoon session at 1:30 o'clock, followed by scripture reading and prayer, and a duet by Alice Adams and Helen Ruth, of Corydon.

The first of two addresses will be delivered by Rev. Cole, his topic to be "A Successful Grange." After another song by the entire group, O. C. Tritt, county farm agent, and a representative of Pennsylvania State College, will talk on the important topic, "Rat Control." Another song will mark the closing for supper at 5:30 o'clock.

A very interesting program has been arranged for the 7:30 p. m. session, opening with group singing; skit by Elmer Grange; piano solo, Beverly McIntyre of Brokenstraw Grange at Youngsville; monolog, Mrs. Holt of Akeley Grange, solo, Norma Haight of Brokenstraw; talk "Soil Conservation," William Yeager, Warren Grange, solo, Donald Hagberg of Scandia Grange.

Final item of business will be conferring of the fifth degree on a class of candidates representing most of the county units.

MRS. HOME FIRE CHIEF

"A fire chief in every home." That's what Warren's Fire Chief C. A. Albaugh would like to see to help reduce the 6,000 deaths caused by fires in American homes each year.

"The logical person for the job is the housewife," Chief Albaugh states. "She is usually home more than anyone else and can keep an eye on the rest of the family to see they don't cause fires by their carelessness. Besides, housewives have more fire-hazardous tasks than anyone else."

The lady of the house must set a good example by being extra careful herself, the Chief says. Electric irons alone start more than 40 fires a day in the home while gas stove explosions and the ignition of hot grease cause many more, he pointed out.

Mrs. Home Fire Chief should see that electric outlets and connections are checked at regular intervals and that chimney flues and stove pipes are unclogged.

"Home dry cleaning fires kill 800 people every year, according to Fire Protection Institute figures. That means the head of the home fire brigade must train her family not to use cleaning fluids near radiators and open fires," Chief Albaugh warns.

Careless smoking causes one-third of the 300,000 annual U. S. dwelling fires, he declared. Smoking in bed, which is the greatest single cause of death by fire in the home, should be forbidden to everyone, he suggests.

"Common sense will prevent most fires," Chief Albaugh says, "and housewives should see that their families employ it in the home. An added step of caution is to have approved fire extinguishers readily available in case of unforeseen accidents. Properly used, fire extinguishers can slow the spread of fire until the fire department arrives. But the greatest help we can get is from fire-alert families. I hope we can get housewives of Warren to help us alert them."

QUINTUPLETS GROWING UP

Time swings by speedily. The Dionne quintuplets have reached and passed their 14th birthday anniversary, overcoming mortality risks equal to those which the average woman meets in the first 65 years of life, according to insurance experts.

Chances now are 97 in 100 that all five will reach marriageable age, and the chances are three in five they will live to be 50 years old. Figures are based on the average for girls in the general population of Canada.

It has not been so long ago that a trip to Canada included a visit to the village in which the quintuplets resided. Now that they have really grown up, wide-spread interest has diminished to some extent. The Dionne quintuplets, however, continue to be among the marvels of this generation, and Canada has good reason to be proud of them.

STARTLING SPY RING STORY

The startling story of the Communist-Russian wartime spy ring inside the government is new only to the public, according to an Associated Press feature writer in Washington.

The FBI has investigated most of the people—maybe all—whose names have been mentioned in testimony before the House Un-American Activities Committee and a Senate Investigating Committee.

The House Un-American Activities Committee has questioned many of those people itself behind closed doors.

And a number of those same people mentioned as taking part, knowingly or unknowingly, in the alleged spy ring have appeared before a grand jury investigating the ring.

But, so far as the public is concerned, the story began to break only last week.

That was when Miss Elizabeth T. Bentley, self-confessed Soviet spy and former Communist party member, appeared before the Senate committee.

The next day the House committee called her in, threw open the doors, and let the public hear what she had to say.

She named names and told of spy rings, made up of wartime government employees, working for the benefit of Russia.

Only one of all those she named is still in government employ.

The burning deck that boy stood on must have had five aces.

Officers and members of Company I are busy mapping plans for the coming fourteen-day Pennsylvania National Guard summer encampment starting August 14, at Indiantown Gap military reservation. Weekly drills are being held at the local armory and according to all reports the unit is in fine condition and well conditioned for the coming maneuvers. Companies from the area, as usual will make the trip on a special train, with the units from Kane and Bradford boarding the special in the former city.

Who is the oldest resident helping to harvest hay in Warren county? Recently the Titusville Herald carried an item saying that Bob Cowden, of Rockledge township, was very active at 77 and participated in the haying on the farm, pitching about as much as men much younger. Now a resident of the Shamburg area reports that M. F. Polwell, of that place, who will be 84 in October, is also quite active, having participated in harvesting the hay crop this summer, pitching hay with young men. Mr. Polwell gives Warren county a mark to shoot at! Wonder if we can beat it?

Sunday will be an eventful day for Berea Lutheran church of Freehold, which will celebrate its 80th anniversary on August 8th. Guest speakers will be two former pastors. Incidentally members have just completely redecorated the entire inside of the church.

Mrs. Elmer Beatty, wife of the McKean county coroner, joined the ranks of radio contest prize winners Saturday afternoon when she received the big thrill as she was busy engaged washing dishes in her home in Bradford. As usual at five o'clock she had tuned in on her favorite radio program over WESB and Mutual, "Take a Number." In a few minutes she heard the announcer list her name as one of the prize winners and that she would be awarded a handsome electric appliance. Her award was based on a cake recipe using marshmallows which she had sent to the studio. She said she was later besieged by telephone calls from friends and acquaintances telling her of her good fortune. Many in the Warren area probably heard the name of the Bradford woman called over the air.

Suggestion for the Rev. J. C. Wygant, at the First Evangelical United Brethren church: Out in Chicago pigeons got too pestiferous at the Lincoln Park Zoo's lion house and refreshment stand. So some dummy cats were placed on top of both buildings. The cats are made of wood. But the heads and tails are attached to the bodies with spring steel. The breezes move them. This makes them look lively enough to scare the pigeons away.

The petroleum collection at the Warren Public Library under the direction of Earnest Miller, considered one of the best in the state, is attracting much attention, not only in the community, but throughout the area. An early photograph showing Col. Edwin Drake at the Drake well, gift from Maurice D. Moffatt, is one of the latest additions to the Jefferson Memorial Room.

Many in the area were tuned in to an interesting broadcast from Niagara Falls when a ribbon across across the Whirlpool Rapids bridge between the United States and Canada marked a century of friendship between the two countries. Ceremonies marking the bridge's 100th anniversary ended with a fireworks display after Miss Niagara Falls, Ont., greeted the queen of Niagara Falls, N. Y. The present steel arch bridge, accommodating both train and vehicular traffic, replaced a suspension bridge in 1897. It is the fourth structure over the falls.

In a new article, reprinted from the Titusville Herald, published in this issue, concerning Dr. S. J. Crumline, of Jackson Heights, N. Y., the nationally known public health worker, who had his origin in these parts, one quite important thing about his career is overlooked. It is noted he introduced the fly swatter, put an end to the public drinking cup and the use of pesthouses in times of epidemics. The matter overlooked, we are reminded, is that he debunked the idea that water flowing in open streams purifies itself every seven miles. At considerable labor and quite some risks Dr. Crumline took tests in the Kansas river and showed to his own satisfaction and presumably that of the medical profession and others, that water did not rid itself of harmful contamination by a seven-mile flow. Work on the construction of a new addition to the Warren Post Office will be started tomorrow morning by Contractor C. L. Gamble, the contract calling for the completion of the new addition before October 1st.

The worst storm to visit Warren and vicinity this summer was experienced last evening, starting about 8 o'clock. It was combined rain, wind and electrical storm which blew limbs from trees, knocked down electric power and telephone wires and caused other damage.

Rapid progress is being made on the building program, at the Warren State Hospital, North Warren. At present there are approximately 350 men employed at the hospital on the seven units included in the project.

The Warren Moose, with three victories over the Titusville Merchants Industrials to their credit so far this season, will journey to the Queen City tomorrow afternoon in an effort to ring up No. 4 at the expense of the chief rivals of the local combiné.

MRS. HOME FIRE CHIEF

"A fire chief in every home." That's what Warren's Fire Chief C. A. Albaugh would like to see to help reduce the 6,000 deaths caused by fires in American homes each year.

"The logical person for the job is the housewife," Chief Albaugh states. "She is usually home more than anyone else and can keep an eye on the rest of the family to see they don't cause fires by their carelessness. Besides, housewives have more fire-hazardous tasks than anyone else."

The lady of the house must set a good example by being extra careful herself, the Chief says. Electric irons alone start more than 40 fires a day in the home while gas stove explosions and the ignition of hot grease cause many more, he pointed out.

Mrs. Home Fire Chief should see that electric outlets and connections are checked at regular intervals and that chimney flues and stove pipes are unclogged.

"Home dry cleaning fires kill 800 people every year, according to Fire Protection Institute figures. That means the head of the home fire brigade must train her family not to use cleaning fluids near radiators and open fires," Chief Albaugh warns.

Careless smoking causes one-third of the 300,000 annual U. S. dwelling fires, he declared. Smoking in bed, which is the greatest single cause of death by fire in the home, should be forbidden to everyone, he suggests.

"Common sense will prevent most fires," Chief Albaugh says, and housewives should see that their families employ it in the home. An added step of caution is to have approved fire extinguishers readily available in case of unforeseen accidents. Properly used, fire extinguishers can slow the spread of fire until the fire department arrives. But the greatest help we can get is from fire-alert families. I hope we can get housewives of Warren to help us alert them."

QUINTUPLETS GROWING UP

Time swings by speedily. The Dionne quintuplets have reached and passed their 14th birthday anniversary, overcoming mortality risks equal to those which the average woman meets in the first 65 years of life, according to insurance experts.

Chances now are 97 in 100 that all five will reach marriageable age, and the chances are three in five they will live to be 50 years old. Figures are based on the average for girls in the general population of Canada.

It has not been so long ago that a trip to Canada included a visit to the village in which the quintuplets resided. Now that they have really grown up, wide-spread interest has diminished to some extent. The Dionne quintuplets, however, continue to be among the marvels of this generation, and Canada has good reason to be proud of them.

A High Note

Due to the wholehearted cooperation of all concerned, another successful community party for all ages has been staged by the Community PTA party committee, rounding out the summer season and bringing the series to a close until after school opens for the new term. Those in charge are grateful to the following for special assistance in the plans: The School board, Times-Mirror and WNAE; Ann Walker for posters; Harry Summers, Mrs. Marshall Morrow, Frank Rossell, Jr., and Dick Rapp, for their help with the program; and all others who lent a helping hand.

A very fine concert was presented by first, second and third band members, as well as a few Dragon alumni who sat in. Because of the rain, it was necessary to have both the concert and the dancing indoors. The movie, "Breaking The Ice," featured Bobbie Breen as tenor soloist and was given to a capacity house. Another record crowd jammed the gym for the floor show, in which the following participated:

Teresa Pino, singing "La Girometto" and representing Italy in the "World Whirl" program; a Dutch dance by Mary Morse; South American dance number by Roseanna Oberg and Edward Fick, with the former singing "Vacation in Brazil"; "Toile, Oolie, Oolie," sung by Ina Carlson to represent Switzerland; with all singing "God Bless America" for the grand finale. Each number was introduced, first by the emcees, and by the flag of the nation, these having been carried by Annette Winerter, Karen Lawson and Laurie Rankin.

Dancing was from nine until twelve in the gym, with the following comprising Don Wood's Band: Piano, Don Wood; drums, Creed Erickson and Mr. Jewell; trumpets, Dale Soderberg, Neil DeStephano, Dean Swanson, with Mac McCarthy sitting in; saxophones, Ed Wood, Bob Dobbs, Jerry Aurilio and Tessie Pino.

HISTORIC MEDICAL HIGHLIGHTS—No. 44

DEATH DEALING DOMESTICS

PASSAGE of the Federal Pure Food and Drug Act of 1906 was a great achievement, with great medical significance. This Act led directly to the high standards of purity so generally prevailing today, and tremendously aided doctors in their fight against illness. But then—as today—the integrity of those who serve you is the most important factor in protecting your family's health. This is a responsibility that Pharmacists—as well as Medicine—assumes . . . and with pride.

The various commercial drug preparations which we sell are selected and sold with thought and knowledge comparable to that involved in our filling of prescriptions. That's why you benefit by filling all drug store needs here.

Herm Kiel hit his 16th homer of the season with two on in the first inning. The Erie Sailors down the New Castle Chiefs 5-2, with Wally Cox notching his 12th mound victory against four losses. Pete Brozowski, Erie leftfielder, got two doubles and a single. The Butler Yanks used all but one of their 10 hits to help in the scoring, as they defeated Johnstown 7-5. The Johnnies got 14 hits but left 14 on bases. Marty Pollio hit a homer for the Yanks in the third.

(By Joe Gardner)

When "Nick" Altrock was contacted relative to his appearance here August 14 for the Kiwanis underprivileged children's benefit, one of his first requests was that certain ex-big leaguers who he had known and played against and whom he knew lived in this section, be on hand to renew old acquaintances. To that end we have contacted "Hugh" Bedient, "Swat" Erickson and "Ray" Caldwell, all of whom reside in Jamestown and vicinity. Bedient, it will be recalled by most of the older baseball fans, beat Christy Mathewson in the 1913 World Series. "Ray" Caldwell was an outstanding pitcher for the New York Yankees and Cleveland while "Swat" Erickson was a former teammate of Altrock's with the Washington Senators. These men have signified their intention of being in uniform and on hand for the Old Timers' game—along with a host of Warren County oldsters some of whom will find it difficult to find a uniform to fit that new look acquired by years of diligent effort at the dinner table. Old Timers who have no uniform will find a few on hand in the bathroom at the hospital, bring your own shoe form.

It will be impossible to send personal invitations to each and every one of the men who have in the past three years contributed so much to the Kiwanis underprivileged children's fund, their willingness to take part in this Annual Affair regardless of the aches, pains and bruises that will be their lot after the game, can be compensated for, in the knowledge that once again they have contributed their share towards making this world a better place to live in for some underprivileged kid.

Four Clubs In Virtual Tie For First Spot In American League

By JOE RICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer
The greatest of all American League pennant races approached the two-thirds mark today in an unprecedented situation—a virtual four-way tie for first place among Cleveland, New York, Boston and Philadelphia. A mere .006 percentage points separated the four teams.

As a result of last night's games, the Indians regained the top rung by defeating the Washington Senators, 5-3, while the Athletics dropped from first to fourth by losing to the Chicago White Sox, 2-1, in 10 innings. The Yankees took over second place by trouncing the Detroit Tigers, 15-3, and the Red Sox advanced to third by outslugging the St. Louis Browns, 15-8.

The National League race also was tightened appreciably when the front running Braves were beaten 5-4 by Cincinnati while the rest of the first division, New York, Brooklyn and St. Louis were idle by rain. In picking up half a game the Giants advanced to within five and a half.

Old Salch Pudge, making his first major league start before 72,434—the largest night game crowd in Cleveland history—gained the honor of pitching the Tribe back into first place. The 44-year-old negro right-hander hurled seven innings, allowing the Senators seven hits before he was taken out for a pinch hitter. He struck out six and walked four.

Dick Fowler of the Athletics had the White Sox shut out 1-0 on only one hit going into Chicago's half of the ninth. Tatt Wright cracked a pinch hit single, advanced to third on a bunt and sacrifice, and scored the tying run on Pat Seery's long fly. With one out in the last of the 10th, Fowler surrendered his fourth and fifth walk to Dave Philley and Cass Michaels. Jack Wallaesa batted for Howie Judson, who relieved Starter Randy Gumpert in the top of the 10th, and singled to right, scoring Philley with the winning run.

The Yankees clubbed four Tiger pitchers for 12 hits, including home runs by George McQuinn, Tommy Henrich and Yogi Berra, to enable Frank Shea to coast to his sixth triumph.

Collecting a dozen hits against six pitchers and using 10 bases on balls to advantage, the Red Sox routed the Browns to keep pace with the Yankees and Indians. Stan Spence and Ted Williams banged homers, the former driving in four runs.

Rookie First Baseman Red Kuszewski drove in three runs with a triple and double to give the Red Sox their second straight triumph over the Braves in the only National League game. It was the third successive loss for the Braves.

Herman Wehmeier, 21-year-old hurler, pitched the first seven and one third innings for the Reds and was credited with his eighth victory although he needed assistance from Veteran Harry Gumbert in the eighth.

East Side tightened its grip on third place in the Junior Baseball League competition by thumping Colosimo, 7 to 3, before a crowd of 100 fans on Russell field last night. The tussle was the payoff of a game postponed by rain during the regular league campaign.

The East Sides turned on plenty of power at the plate, getting 14 safeties including a triple by Wollaston and a double by Dave Bevevino.

Dick Smith, handling the pitching chores for the victors, scattered six hits and also fanned a half-dozen swatters.

Conewango Elks Score 9 to 5 Triumph Over Starbrick Squad

Conewango Elks cut down the Starbrick nine by a 9-5 score in the payoff of a postponed Junior Baseball League tilt at Starbrick.

Chuck Reese paced the victors with two doubles in four trips to the plate, while Dick Christensen, the winning pitcher, also poked a double.

Dick fanned 11 men, walked four and was touched for five singles. T. Huckabone, who started on the mound for Starbrick, struck out five swatters, issued two free passes, and gave up three hits. He was relieved by Gray whose record showed five strikeouts, one walk and two safeties.

Former Management of Red Jackets Grid Club Issues A Statement About New Club

The three men who have steered the Warren Red Jackets semi-pro football club through the past two seasons today asked the Times-Mirror to print the following statement concerning the players themselves taking over the full operation of the club this season:

"Many fans are asking numerous questions in regards to the change in the management of the Red Jackets. You fans support the team so we feel you're entitled to a full explanation.

"The management these past two years consisted of Mike Bleech, business manager; Pete Fanartitis, business advisor; and Ken Whisner, coach. The team has been operated by all the players, boys from out of town as well. The first game was played for equipment and money to get the team rolling.

"A meeting was held a month ago to start organizing the team for the coming season. Two of the players and a couple of potential spectators showed up at the meeting to discuss the present management. After some heated discussions it was decided the team would organize as a club and run their own team. The boys from out of town were given notice they should have nothing to say about the management, etc. of the team. This, however, backfired, as the boys from out of town quit the Red Jackets and went to play with other teams.

"There is twenty five hundred dollars worth of equipment plus a four hundred dollar public address system, all in first class condition. This will be turned over to the new management when the outstanding bills are paid to the present management.

"The money made by the team has been split up equally among the players, as to their playing ability. The lowest paid man on the squad made more money than most of the highest paid men on teams the Red Jackets played. The financial reports were given out so all players could see just what was going on.

"This management feels that we have given Warren some good honest football the past two years. We realize it is impossible to satisfy everyone but we were always trying. We appreciate the fine support given the team by all you fans.

Signed:
Mike Bleech,
Pete Fanartitis,
Ken Whisner.
P. S. We wish the new management all the luck in the world."

U. S. Team Well On Way To Setting Triumphs Record

Olympic Stadium, Wembley, England, Aug. 4.—(AP)—The Olympic track and field games passed their half way mark today with the United States well on the way to equalling or bettering its greatest triumphs in other modern olympiads.

At the end of four days of international competition, 14 individual champions had stood proudly at attention while their national anthems were played. Seven times it was the "Star Spangled Banner."

There remain ten more finals to be held before the track and field games end on Saturday. The United States seems assured of winning four and has a possible chance in a fifth.

Thus far the American team has captured the following individual titles:
100, 200, and 800 meters, 400 meter hurdles, broad jump, pole vault and shot put.

It now appears likely to win the 400 and 1,600 meter relays, the decathlon and 110 meter hurdles. The other events on the next four days of competition are the javelin, 400 meters, 3,000 meter steeplechase, 1500 meter run, 10,000 meter walk, and marathon.

Only in the 400 meters and javelin do the Americans have any real hope of winning and in those the possibilities are slim.

The next few days should see two of the most famous stars of trackdom in their specialties.

Herb McKenley of Jamaica, the former Illinois University runner, starts his quest this afternoon for the 400 meter title. He already

Y Pool Will Be Reopened This Friday
Ceiling repairs are being completed in the YMCA swimming pool room today, but the cleaning and refilling of the pool will take over tomorrow so that the pool will be ready for reopening Friday afternoon, with probably some rather snappy—or otherwise referred to as chilly—water to swim in for a day or so.

It takes a couple days, even with pushing the water heating furnace, to warm up 60,000 gallons of cool water to the usually delightful swimming temperature at which the "Y" pool is kept.

Cyril Little will have charge of the swimming classes for boys on Friday afternoon and evening and Saturday morning, and then Bill Muirvey, the "Y" physical director will again be in charge of all swimming upon the return from his vacation next Monday.

The regular schedule of swimming classes will continue as conducted last month until school starts this fall.

Those in charge are grateful to the following for special assistance in the plan: The School board; Times-Mirror and WNAE; Ann Walker for posters; Harry Summers, Mrs. Marshall Morrow, Frank Rossell, Jr., and Dick Rapp, for their help with the program, and all others who lent a helping hand.

Bear Lake Fire Probe Continues

The investigation of the attempted robbery and fire at the G. L. L. mill in Bear Lake Monday evening is being continued by Sheriff L. E. Linger and officers of the Warren State Police barracks. As yet, no clues have been discovered which lead officers to believe they can solve the crime which resulted in a $25,000 loss.

A temporary service station for mill customers has been opened in a shed on the property by Harold Felton, mill manager, and it is expected that members of the Bear Lake G. L. L. committee will meet within a few days to decide on rebuilding of the mill.

It was necessary to recall the Sugar Grove fire department to the scene Monday afternoon to wet down the debris when the huge accumulation of grain threatened to blaze up again.

This and That: One of the best shows we have witnessed on a baseball diamond this year was staged last evening at Russell field by Nick Creola and George Wollaston, managers respectively of Greene's and the East Side teams in the Junior league. The field games are a marvel. They don't overlook a bet. Incidentally, the contest itself, reminded of the old rivalry between the Buttermilk and Glade some 25 years ago, when Wollaston, himself, was one of the standbys of the East Side outfit. And it was the first time we ever watched a bespectacled catcher. Fischer, backstop for the East Side, wears glasses while behind the bat, and the odd thing about it is that when he flips the mask from his face to go after a foul ball, the glasses stay with the protector—and don't break—at least they didn't last evening. Sounds like something or other that might interest Bob Ripley. We're indebted to Harry Shawkey for that reminder carried the other day about the annual reunion of the 15th and 16th Regiments P. V. L., United Spanish War Veterans, to be held in Memorial Park in Grove City Saturday. The North District Council and auxiliary, and other veterans of the war with Spain living in the district are expected to swell the attendance at the gathering. x x x Looks like they're getting ready to harvest the bean crop from the field just east of the beautiful baseball diamond at the Warren State Hospital. When this plot is cleared the boys won't have so much difficulty finding balls fouled into the plot. x x x That horseshoe pitching

Kelleetville Id Home Day

Between 300 and 400 persons attended the annual Homecoming festival at Kelleetville. A perfect weather added to the enjoyment of those gathered to visit old acquaintances and make friends.

The town itself is nearly gone, many former residents had only finding sites of their former homes. The old church, however, remains all its former glory and majesty.

During the afternoon's business, the following were elected officers to serve in the company: James E. Flynn, president; Mrs. Julia Wilson, secretary.

Those who have formerly lived in the Tionesta valley are urged to plan to go back next year to the old gang. The date is to be remembered since the coming is always held the Saturday in July and old times are asked to start thinking about old friends and make a year's attendance a record.

Services For Pvt. Wozneck Thursday

Removal has been made to the Leo D. Gibson Funeral Home, where friends may pay their respects at the usual visiting hours and from where services will be held at 10 a. m. Thursday. American citizen and was a faithful government employee. I am not and never have been a spy or agent of any foreign government.

Superintendent is no longer in the government. He lives at Harvey Lodge, N. J. He said he is in the house building business.

Before the hearings were resumed, Chairman Mundt (R-S.D.) told reporters the committee is only out to get the whole story of Soviet spying but before the public. He said "There is nothing we can do legally or legislatively at the moment."

Mundt said the committee proposes to let its espionage cases be decided in the court or public opinion, to let the people determine whether the committee is right or Attorney General Tom Clark is right.

The committee may propose formally that a special grand jury be convened in Washington to consider the spy charges. A special grand jury which indicted 12 top Communists in New York last month on charges of plotting to overthrow the government has not yet been dismissed.

Across the capital, the senate investigating committee delayed its next episode in the double feature spy thriller until afternoon. But it did not announce in advance who would be questioned at the two p. m. session.

The senate group spent most of yesterday listening to William W. Remington, 30-year-old commerce department official now under indefinite suspension, reiterate his denial that he had passed along war secrets for relay to Moscow.

Remington said frankly he considered as "preposterous" his wartime meetings with Miss Elizabeth T. Bentley in parks and on street corners. But he insisted the only reasons were that he was young (24) and "romantic." And besides he thought Miss Bentley was a newspaper reporter.

It was the 40-year-old Miss Bentley who grabbed big black headlines last weekend with her confessions as a spy ring courier.

At a hearing at Pittsburgh yesterday, commissioner John J. Snyder expected the milk price to producers would be upped $1 per hundred-weight (48 1/2 quarts now receive $8 1/2 a hundredweight).

E. W. Humes, representing the Dairywomen's Cooperative Sales Association, said the increase is being sought because:

1. Increasingly high prices offered in surrounding states are attracting local milk.
2. Due to high operating costs, farmers are diverting dairy cattle to slaughter.

MALAYAN REBELS AND BRITISH IN BATTLE

Singapore, Aug. 4.—(P)—Malayan Communist insurgents met British forces in open battle today, 80 miles south of the Siamese border.

A British army communiqué said British forces, under cover of rocket-firing Spitfires, are driving forward against stiff enemy opposition.

Presumably the fight was on a small scale. It is believed, however, to be the first time the Communists have stood and fought since the revolt began in June. It was the first time reports from the forward area have used the word battle.

time for Congress, said GOP senators appeared to be split about evenly on the proposal to change the poll tax measure to a constitutional amendment.

Southern Democrats have said they would oppose any such constitutional amendment, which would need approval by 36 states. In any event, they apparently had won their fight against special-session action on the House-approved bill to knock out such laws by simple congressional action.

The Republican choice thus lay between trying to kill the poll tax the hard way—by changing the constitution—or letting the whole matter go over until January.

However, Senator Morse (R-Ore.) made a fighting retreat last night against the Dixie word of defiance on the poll tax question. He held the floor for over two hours defending the constitutionality of the House measure.

Morse spoke after Senator Hill (D-Ala.) had given his colleagues a six hour and 15 minute talk on the subject. But few senators stayed around to listen to either speaker.

When the Senate finally quit at 10:16 p. m. Morse was promised he still would have the floor at the start of today's session.

Belgrade, Aug. 4.—(P)—The Russians presented today their draft plan which would give Communist-ruled states of eastern Europe exclusive control over the Danube river.

Market Quotations

New York, Aug. 4.—(P)—The stock market inched ahead cautiously today. Steel, rails and oil shares were most responsive to only meager demand. A handful of losses appeared but, except for a couple of farm implement stocks, were small. The attitude of most security traders continued to be one of caution as they waited for the anti-inflation program to develop in congressional committees.

Find My Killer

By MANLY WELLMAN

Chapter 24

I HEADED for Bensinger's hotel, to find J. I. had got there first. I faced J. D. "Find anything?"

"Lots of things," she pointed to drawers she'd opened and papers she'd thrown around. "But nothing about why he should have been killed. The clerk did tell me that Al Bensinger got a phone call last night. It was a voice with an accent—Alchise, who seemed to want to see Bensinger."

"See him last night?"

"Apparently not, because Bensinger went to bed last night early—about seven-thirty."

"Good. Now let's push along, you and I. The oo's in blue are going to be up here and they'll feel hurt if we get in their way."

Her car was at the curb and we walked back to the office. I told Holmes just putting on his hat.

"Listen, hi-ho," he sang as we came in. "It's back to work I go."

"To the department, you mean?" I asked.

"Yes, they just phoned me. My suspension's been revoked. Keep in touch with me, you lucky people."

He left, and J. D. and I sat down at our desks. We were like two dots on the sea, room and evening. "I think," said she, "that we have more things to work on and more things to figure out."

"I agree," I said. "But what?"

"We shall find the gun or guns in this shooting. The only danger we know of is in the possession of Diane Ealing. If she used it or let it be used—"

"Somebody figured out that," I said. "She's a killer, unless we learned awfully fast since I was out there this morning. She pulled a gun on me and wasted so much time talking herself into using it. I took it away from her."

"You didn't tell me about that," said J. D. Her eyes grew wide. "I haven't had time, but I'll tell you now." And I did. Also of how Kuhl was definitely in the clear. More notes by J. D. and discussion of them. It was noon when the phone rang. J. D. answered it, then held it out to me.

"Listen," said Raniel's worst-tempered voice.

"Will you come over here to my office?"

"Sorry, Raniel. I'm just going out to lunch."

"I'll buy you your lunch," he offered, and I gave in a little.

"Buy it for both my boy, and me and maybe we'll come."

"Okay," he named a restaurant, and I hung up.

"Free show," I said to J. D. "Our genial host is Lieutenant Raniel, bright star of the homicide detail. He has a great, big, green olive branch in his hand."

Raniel was waiting and a big fat blonde waitress took our orders. "Now," said Raniel, looking as if his corns hurt him and was to blame. "I vote we all stop fighting and start working together. Let's forget all our squabbles."

"I deduce," and J. D. turned to me, "that you've been cleared in every aspect of the case."

"That's right," nodded Raniel, as if admitting to some big piece of news.

"So now what?" I said.

"You're a real sewer," said Raniel, "but I think you're up on some things I'm not. Let's pool our findings and go after this murder together."

"What are the findings?" I asked.

"You tell me."

"I said," said J. D. "That's your proposition. Lieutenant, run your move. For one thing, what does the medical examiner say, and what is the laboratory doing?"

He made another sad grimace. He hated to give out a single word, but he did. "Bensinger and Alchise were killed at about the same time. Very shortly before you phoned me. Votes couldn't have been earlier than nine o'clock, and probably later. By that time, as Dr. Stokes's office can prove, the doctor was in his consulting room. He didn't leave until he got your call."

"Which again clears him of suspicion," I summed up.

"How about the murder gun?"

"He shook his head. "Not gun. Guns. That was Holmes's first finding when he came back to work. Two guns, both of caliber, with lightly charred shells. Probably another pair of strangers like those at the Ealing house. Now, what do you people know?"

"That Alchise called Bensinger last night and apparently asked him out for a conference this morning," said J. D. "Likewise, that Bensinger left his lodgings around seven-thirty a. m. He wasn't at Stokes's before the doctor left for his office, that gives us an hour to wonder about him."

"We can also wonder about what the killer took from his inside pocket," I added. "Something was taken out, and his coat buttoned up."

"I figured that out myself," said Raniel, and the tone of his voice showed he hadn't figured anything of the kind.

"Personally," Raniel said, "I think it behooves to eliminate down to the Portuguese. One or the other, or both."

"I'm falling not home about the time they did," I told him.

"Maybe she's a bit too," said Raniel.

"I can allow for myself," I said. "I was with her around 10 o'clock and quite a little while past this morning."

"Where was the Portuguese?"

"The plan was working in the yard," said Raniel. "Buttery was out chapping. She didn't come in while I was there."

"Got it?" he said. "She could have been in Doc Stokes's place, killing these two with guns stolen from Ealing's collection."

"Mrs. Patterson on Two-Gun Tossie?"

"I'm going to bring her in," decided Raniel. "And ask her some rude questions."

Auto Tour For Forest County Planned For Friday, August 6

Forest county people will visit outstanding farms in Elk county during the annual auto tour on Friday, August 6.

In cooperation with A. C. Rockwell, county agent of Elk county, the Extension Association tour committee, consisting of Frank Glenn, Marienville; Mrs. James Handy, Pleasantville, Rt. 3; and Mrs. John H. King, West Hickory, planned the following itinerary:

The tourists are to gather at 9 a. m. at the farm of W. B. Frost, six miles north of Marienville at Pigeon, to see the large herd of Hereford beef cattle on an improved pasture near the main highway.

From here the tourists will go to the farm of Ellithorpe Brothers in Elk county, to see a woodland improvement demonstration that has been carried on for a period of 37 years.

The next stop will be at the farm of E. Anderson and Sons, near Ridgway. Here the visitors will see a large herd of Holstein dairy cattle, a plant where milk is pasteurized and homogenized, a farm pond under construction, contour strip farming and 4-H Club heifers.

The third stop will be at the farm of Harry Engstrom, Ridgway. Mr. Engstrom has about 2,000 White Faced New Hampshire and Leghorn chickens, a three-floor laying house which had been remodelled from an old barn, and a windbreak developed from the planting of evergreen trees. The Forest County people will eat their basket picnic lunches at the Anderson grove nearby. Mr. Anderson will supply coffee and drinking water.

The first stop after lunch will be at the New York and Pennsylvania Company pulpwood yard, where the visitors will see two or three millions dollars worth of paper wood, and the men may also see a hydraulic mechanical bark peeler in operation.

The next stop will be at the farm of George Grotzinger, St. Marys, Rt. 2. According to County Agent Rockwell this is one of the showiest farms in Elk county. Here the people will see modern dairy buildings, hay finishers, a farm shop, results of 2, 4-D spraying, and a pure bred Jersey herd.

The last stop will be at the farm of Joseph Schwabenbauer near St. Marys. Mr. Schwabenbauer is conducting a timber preservation treatment demonstration in a 10,000 bushel potato storage. Here the tourists may also see a dairy herd, contour strip cropping and potatoes sprayed with DDT for insect control.

After the first stop in Elk county the distance is about 40 miles to the last stop. Therefore, the tour committee believes that this trip will not be as far as some other trips taken during annual auto tours.

Pomona Grange Quarterly At Corydon On Thursday

Members of subordinate Granges of the entire county will gather in Corydon on Thursday of this week to attend the quarterly program-meeting of Warren County Pomona Grange, No. 10.

The morning session will open in the fifth degree at 10:30 o'clock following the business meeting. After the opening song, in which all will participate, the welcome will be extended by Nelson Crooks, of Corydon. Rev. Jordan Cole, of Columbus, will voice the response.

The remainder of the morning period will be devoted to the home economics hour in charge of Margaret Johnson, with adjournment for 12:30 luncheon following the closing song.

Another community sing will open the afternoon session at 1:30 o'clock, followed by scripture reading and prayer, and a duet by Alice Adams and Helen Ruth, of Corydon.

The first of two addresses will be delivered by Rev. Cole, his topic to be "A Successful Grange." After another song by the entire group, O. C. Tritt, county farm agent, and a representative of Pennsylvania State College, will talk on the important topic, "Rat Control." Another song will mark the closing for supper at 5:30 o'clock.

A very interesting program has been arranged for the 7:30 p. m. session, opening with group singing; skit by Elured Grange; piano solo, Beverly McIntyre of Brokenstraw Grange at Youngsville; monolog, Mrs. Holt of Akeley Grange; solo, Norma Haight of Brokenstraw; talk, "Soil Conservation", William Yeager, Warren Grange; solo, Donald Hagberg of Scandia Grange.

Elmer Haight pitched his second no hit, no run game of the season last night as the Youngville shut-out Sugar Grove, 4-0, in the play-off of a Junior Baseball League scrap at Sugar Grove last night.

Haight maintained his control throughout the seven-inning tussle, fanning 11 batters and issuing only one free ticket. He was opposed on the mound by Don Spencer, Sugar Grove ace, who fanned nine men, walked one and gave up six safeties.

First Sacker Trask drove in both Youngville runs with a single and a double. Randall and N. Haight also poked two base walks for the victors.

(By Joe Gardner)

When "Nick" Altrock was contacted relative to his appearance here August 14 for the Kiwanis underprivileged children's benefit, one of his first requests was that certain ex-legionnaires who he had known and played against and whom he knew lived in this section, be on hand to renew old acquaintances. To that end we have contacted "Hugh" Bedient, "Swat" Erickson and "Ray" Caldwell, all of whom reside in Jamestown and vicinity. Bedient, it will be recalled by most of the older baseball fans, beat Christy Mathewson in the 1913 World Series. "Ray" Caldwell was an outstanding pitcher for the New York Yankees and Cleveland while "Swat" Erickson was a former teammate of Altrock's with the Washington Senators. These men have signified their intention of being in uniform and on hand for the Old Timers' game—along with a host of Warren County oldsters some of whom will find it difficult to find a uniform to fit that new look acquired by years of diligent effort at the dinner table. Old Timers who have no uniform will find a few on hand in the bathroom at the hospital, bring your own shoes home.

It will be impossible to send personal invitations to each and every one of the men who have in the past three years contributed so much to the Kiwanis underprivileged children's fund, their willingness to take part in this Annual Affair regardless of the aches, pains and bruises that will be their lot after the game, can be compensated for, in the knowledge that once again they have contributed their share towards making this world a better place to live in for some underprivileged kid.

Four Clubs in Virtual Tie For First Spot In American League

By JOE RICHLER
Associated Press Staff Writer
The greatest of all American League pennant races approached the third-throw mark today in an unprecedented situation—a virtual four-way tie for first place among Cleveland, New York, Boston and Philadelphia. A mere .006 percentage points separated the four teams.

As a result of last night's games, the Indians regained the top rung by defeating the Washington Senators, 5-3, while the Athletics dropped from first to fourth by losing to the Chicago White Sox, 2-1, in 10 innings. The Yankees took over second place by trouncing the Detroit Tigers, 15-8, and the Red Sox advanced to third by outslugging the St. Louis Browns, 15-8.

The National League race also was tightened appreciably when the front running Braves were beaten 5-4 by Cincinnati while the rest of the first division, New York, Brooklyn and St. Louis were held by rain in picking up half a game by losing to the Chicago White Sox, 2-1, in 10 innings. The Yankees took over second place by trouncing the Detroit Tigers, 15-8, and the Red Sox advanced to third by outslugging the St. Louis Browns, 15-8.

Former Management of Red Jackets Grid Club Issues A Statement About New Club

The three men who have steered the Warren Red Jackets semi-pro football club through the past two seasons today asked the Times-Mirror to print the following statement concerning the players themselves taking over the full operation of the club this season:

"Many fans are asking numerous questions in regards to the change in the management of the Red Jackets. You fans support the team so we feel you're entitled to a full explanation.

"The management these past two years consisted of Mike Bleech, business manager; Pete Fanaritis, business advisor; and Ken Whisner, coach. The team has been operated by all the players, boys from out of town as well. The first game was played for equipment and money to get the team rolling.

"A meeting was held a month ago to start organizing the team for the coming season. Two of the players and a couple of potential spectators showed up at the meeting declaring they were dissatisfied with the present management. After some heated discussions it was decided the team would organize as a club and run their own team. The boys from out of town were given notice they should have nothing to say about the management, etc. The team. This, however, backed as the boys from out of town quit the Red Jackets and went to play with other teams.

"There is twenty five hundred dollars worth of equipment plus a four hundred dollar public address system, all in first class condition. This will be turned over to the new management when the outstanding bills are paid to the present management.

"The money made by the team has been split equally among the players, as to their playing ability. The lowest paid man on the squad made more money than most of the highest paid men on teams the Red Jackets played. The financial reports were given out so all players could see just what was going on.

"This management feels that we have given Warren some good honest football the past two years. We realize it is impossible to satisfy everyone but we were always trying. We appreciate the fine support given the team by all you fans.

Signed:
Mike Bleech,
Pete Fanaritis,
Ken Whisner.
P. S. We wish the new management all the luck in the world."

U. S. Team Well On Way To Setting Triumphs Record

Olympic Stadium, Wembley, England, Aug. 4.—(P)—The Olympic track and field games passed their half way mark today with the United States well on the way to equalling or bettering its greatest triumphs in other modern olympiads.

At the end of four days of international competition, 14 individual champions had stood proudly at attention while their national anthems were played. Seven times it was the "Star Spangled Banner."

There remain ten more finals to be held before the track and field games end on Saturday. The United States seems assured of winning four and has a possible chance in a fifth.

Thus far the American team has captured the following individual titles:
100, 200, and 800 meters, 400 meter hurdles, broad jump, pole vault and shot put

LOCAL DRIVER IN CRASH
Corry Journal: State Police of the Corry sub-station investigated an accident four miles west of Corry on Route 6 Monday. The accident occurred when Frank Newhouse, of Woodside, N. Y., traveling east, turned out into the left lane of traffic to avoid hitting a car in front of him which slowed down very quickly. He struck the Nash car of Robert Lindsey, of Warren, who was in the westbound lane of traffic. The car immediately ahead of Newhouse was not identified as the driver failed to stop. The impact rolled the Nash car over on its side, but fortunately Mr. Lindsey was uninjured. Damage to his car is estimated at $300 while the Pontiac driven by Newhouse was damaged to the extent of $50. State Police have filed no charges as yet.

Kellettville Old Home Day

During the afternoon's business hours, the following were conducted: James E. Flynn, president; Mrs. Julia Wilson, secretary.

Those who have formerly lived in the Tionesta valley are urged to plan to go back next year to see the old gang. The date is to be remembered, since the coming is always held the Saturday in July and old times are asked to start thinking about old friends and make next year's attendance a record.

Sgt. Bruce V. Scott, Jr., was military escort for Pvt. Wozneck, who was killed in action near Latina, Italy, on June 1, 1944, and was being temporarily buried in the U. S. Military cemetery at Nettuno, Italy.

Removal has been made to the Leo D. Gibson Funeral Home, where friends may pay their respects at the usual visiting hours and from where services will be held at 10 a. m. Thursday. Father Alfred Bauer, pastor of St. Joseph's church, will officiate, and interment will follow in St. Joseph's cemetery.

American citizen and was a faithful government employee. I am not at all sure I have been a spy or agent of any foreign government.

Silvermaster is no longer in the government. He lives at Harvey Cedars, N. J. He said he is in the house building business.

Before the hearings were resumed, Chairman Mundt (R-S.D.) told reporters the committee is only out to get the whole story of Soviet spying but before the public. He said "There is nothing we can do legally or legislatively at the moment."

Mundt said the committee proposes to let its espionage cases "be decided in the court of public opinion, to let the people determine whether the committee is right or Attorney General Tom Clark is right."

The committee may propose formally that a special grand jury be convened in Washington to consider the spy charges. A special grand jury which indicted 12 Communist in New York last month on charges of plotting to overthrow the government has not yet been dismissed.

Across the capitol, the senate investigating committee delayed its next episode in the double feature spy thriller until afternoon. But it did not announce in advance who would be questioned at the two p. m. session.

The senate group spent most of yesterday listening to William W. Remington, 30-year-old commerce department official now under indefinite suspension, reiterate his denial that he had passed along war secrets for relay to Moscow.

Remington said frankly he considered as "preposterous" his wartime meetings with Miss Elizabeth T. Bentley in parks and on street corners. But he insisted the only reasons were that he was young (24) and "romantic." And besides he thought Miss Bentley was a newspaper reporter.

It was the 40-year-old Miss Bentley who grabbed big black headlines last weekend with her confessions as a spy ring courier.

L. Lowrey Humes, representing the Dairyman's Cooperative Sales Association, said the increase is being sought because:

1. Increasingly high prices offered in surrounding states are attracting local milk.

2. Due to high operating costs, farmers are diverting dairy cattle to slaughter.

Romance Excites Society In London

London, Aug. 4—(AP)—Talk about a possible new royal romance has London society all abuzz today. The talk links Princess Margaret Rose with the Marquess of Blandford, handsome, 22-year-old cousin of Winston Churchill.

The princess, who becomes of age (18) on Aug. 21, has been seen in the company of Blandford frequently since he returned from duty in the Middle East as a lieutenant in the life guards. His family background is top drawer. He is a son of the 10th Duke and Duchess of Marlborough, whose estate, Blenheim Palace, is said to be the largest private home in England.

Princess Margaret, palace circles said, said quite frankly that she wants to marry "when I meet the right man."

time for Congress, said GOP senators appeared to be split about evenly on the proposal to change the poll tax measure to a constitutional amendment.

Southern Democrats have said they would filibuster against a constitutional amendment, which would need approval by 36 states. In any event, they apparently had won their fight against special-session action on the House-approved bill to knock out such levies by simple congressional action.

The Republican choice thus lay between trying to kill the poll tax the hard way—by changing the constitution—or letting the whole matter go over until January.

However, Senator Morse (R-Ore.) made a fighting retreat last night against the Dixie word of defiance on the poll tax question. He held the floor for over two hours defending the constitutionality of the House measure.

Morse spoke after Senator Hill (D-Ala.) had given his colleagues a six hour and 13 minute talk on the subject. But few senators stayed around to listen to either speaker.

When the Senate finally quit at 10:16 p. m. Morse was promised he still would have the floor at the start of today's session.

Market Quotations

New York, Aug. 4—(AP)—The stock market inched ahead cautiously today. Steel, rails and oil shares were most responsive to only meager demand. A handful of losses appeared but, except for a couple of farm implement stocks, were small. The attitude of most security traders continued to be one of caution as they waited for the anti-inflation program to develop in congressional committees.

Find My Killer

By MANLY WELLMAN

Chapter 24

HEADED for Bensinger's hotel, to find J. I. had got there first. I faced J. D. "Find anything?" "Lots of things." She pointed to drawers she'd opened and papers she'd strewn around. "But nothing about why he should have been killed. The clerk did tell me that Al Bensinger got a phone call last night. It was a voice with an accent—Alchisez, who seemed to want to see Bensinger."

"See him last night?" "Apparently not, because Bensinger went to bed. He left early this morning—about seven-thirty."

"Good. Now let's push along, you and I. The boys in blue are going to be up here and they'll feel hurt if we get in their way."

Her car was at the curb and we whizzed back to the office. We found Holmgren just putting on his hat.

"Hi-ho, hi-ho," he sang as we came in. "It's back to work I go."

"To the department, you mean?" I asked.

"Yes, they just phoned me. My suspension's been revoked. Keep in touch with me, you lucky people."

He left, and J. D. and I sat down. Her eyes were like two dips out of the sea, moon and evening, I think. "But, I think that we have more things to work on and more things to figure out."

J. D. was making notes again. "We must find the gun or guns in this new shooting. The only derringer we know of is in the possession of Diana Baling. If she used it, or let it be used."

"Somehow I figure her out of that," I said. "She's no killer, unless she learned awfully fast since I was out there this morning. She pulled a gun on me and wasted so much time talking herself into using it. I took it away from her."

"You didn't tell me about that," said J. D., her eyes growing wide. "I haven't had time, but I'll tell you now." And I did. Also of how Kuhl was definitely in the clear. More notes by J. D., and discussion of them. It was noon when the phone rang. J. D. answered it, then held it out to me. "Yates?" said Raniel's worst-tempered voice. "That's right."

"Will you come over here to my office?" "Sorry, Raniel. I'm just going out to lunch."

"I'll buy you your lunch," he offered, and I gave in a little. "Buy it for both my boss and me and maybe we'll come."

"Okay," he named a restaurant and I hung up. "Free show," I said to J. D. "Our genial host is Lieutenant Raniel, bright star of the homicide detail. He has a great, big, green olive branch in his hand."

RANIEL was waiting and a big fat blonde waitress took our orders. "Now," said Raniel, looking as if his corns hurt him and as if to blame, "I vote we all stop fighting and start working together. Let's forget all our squabbles."

"I deduce," and J. D. turned to me. "That you've been cleared in every aspect of the case."

"That's right," nodded Raniel, as if admitting it gave him ulcers. "So now what?" I said.

"You've made several nice takes," he said. "But, I think you're up on some things I'm not. Let's pool our findings and go after this murderer together."

"Just what are the findings?" I asked. "You tell me."

"You tell me," J. D. said. "This is your proposition. Lieutenant, and your move. For one thing, what does the medical examiner say, and what is the laboratory doing?"

He made another sad grimace. He hated to give out a single word, but he did. "Bensinger and Alchisez were killed at about the same time. Very early before you phoned me, Yates. Couldn't have been earlier than nine o'clock, and probably later. By that time, as Dr. Stokes's office can prove, the doctor was in his consulting room. He didn't leave until he got your call."

"Which again clears him of suspicion," I summed up.

"How about the murder gun?" He shook his head. "Not gun. Guns. That was Holmgren's first finding when he came back to work. Two guns, both .41 caliber, with lightly charged shells. Probably another pair of derringers like those at the Ealing house. Now, what else do you people know?"

"That Alchisez called Bensinger last night and apparently asked him out for a conference this morning," said J. D. "Likewise, that Bensinger left his lodgings around seven-thirty a. m. If he wasn't at Stokes's before the doctor left for his office, that gives us an hour to wonder about him."

"We can also wonder about what the killer took from his inside pocket," I added. "Something was taken out, and his coat buttoned up."

"I figured that out myself," said Raniel, and the tone of his voice showed he hadn't figured anything of the kind.

"Personally," Raniel said, "I think it begins to eliminate down to the Pettigrews. One or the other or both."

"Mrs. Ealing got home about the time they did," I told him. "Maybe she's in it, too," said Raniel.

"I can alibi her myself," I said. "I was with her around nine o'clock and quite a little while past this morning."

"Where were the Pettigrews?" "The man was working in the yard. Mrs. Pettigrew was out shopping. She didn't come in while I was there."

"Get it?" he said. "She could have been at Doc Stokes's place, killing those two with guns stolen from Railing's collection." "Mrs. Pettigrew as Two-Gun Tessie?" I said.

"I'm going to bring her in," decided Raniel. "and ask her some rude questions."

Bear Lake Fire Probe Continues

The investigation of the attempted robbery and fire at the G. L. L. mill in Bear Lake Monday evening is being continued by Sheriff L. B. Long and officers of the Warren State Police barracks. As yet, no clues have been discovered which lead officers to believe they can solve the crime which resulted in a $25,000 loss.

A temporary service station for mill customers has been opened in a shed on the property by Harold Felton, mill manager, and it is expected that members of the Bear Lake G. L. F. committee will meet within a few days to decide on rebuilding of the mill.

It was necessary to recall the Sugar Grove fire department to the scene Monday afternoon to wet down the debris when the huge accumulation of grain threatened to blaze up again.
